

Joseph P. Richardson
Managing Partner
Eastern NY Angels Capital, LLC (ENYA)

Joseph P. Richardson is Managing Partner at Eastern NY Angels Capital, LLC (ENYA); three early-stage entrepreneurial seed funds originally formed in April 2010. He began his corporate banking career at the State Bank of Albany in July, 1963 (now the Bank of America) and retired as Senior Vice President from Citizens Bank in February 2005. After a brief time as Director of Economic Development for the Albany-Colonie Regional Chamber of Commerce, he reentered banking when Berkshire Bank asked him to develop New York's Capital Region expansion. Joe retired from Berkshire in September 2009.

A 1963 graduate with a BA degree in Economics, Joe obtained a graduate degree from the Stonier Graduate School of Banking at Rutgers University in June 1978 where he received honors, and his thesis was accepted at the Library of Congress and published. He holds a number Graduate Certificates from other specialized programs and is a former Certified Commercial Lender as designated by the American Bankers Association.

Joe has been a very active member of many Capital Region community organizations including as former Board Chair at WMHT Educational Telecommunications and the Albany-Colonie Regional Chamber of Commerce and Vice-Chair of the Town of Bethlehem Industrial Development Agency. Joe has received a number of community awards and was recognized in 2009 by the Albany TIMES UNION as "A Dozen Who Make a Difference in the Capital District." He is an Emeritus Trustee at St. Lawrence University.

Married to Joan Langlois Richardson and residing in Slingerlands, NY, Joan and Joe are blessed with four children and fourteen grandchildren. When not volunteering for a good cause, you can find Joe hiking, canoeing, biking, or taking a long run or walk.
